GIFTS

The following have presented books to the Library:

Mr. Adrian C. Larkin.

Mrs. Josephine F. Pendergast.

Miss Carolyn Stone.

John Templeton.

Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Chemical Foundation, Inc.

The past year has seen a change in the lobby of the Public Library, a change which it is hoped has been enjoyed by the patrons. For some years books were displayed on a table in front of the charging desk. Since a large statue occupied the center of the table, only a limited number of books could be shown; also valuable floor space was taken up. Early this last summer the table was discarded and slanting bookcases, finished to match the interior trim of the building, were installed on the large seats each side of the desk. This makes a neater, more compact book display.

Celotex bulletin boards have been installed near these cases and also near the front door for the better display of book-jackets, pictures and other material of interest to patrons.

Last summer the library began assembling and indexing a collection of mounted and unmounted pictures for circulation. These are of geographic, biographic, historic and general interest, pictures which have been collected over a long period from such sources as old magazines and newspapers. A large number have been brought in by interested patrons. It is hoped that this collection will prove useful to the general public as well as to the students and teachers.

The library is now open one morning a week, Saturday morning from 10 to 12. This is in addition to the regular library hours.

It is interesting to note in comparing the figures for this year's circulation with those of last year that the circulation of fiction has decreased while that of non-fiction has increased slightly. The same has been true of book sales, according to an analysis of the 1935 book trade appearing in the Publisher's Weekly for January 18, 1936. The most popular classification of non-fiction at the Public Library is travel, with biography second, useful arts and applied science third, and literature fourth. The circulation of magazines has increased 358 and the circulation in the Children's Department has increased 468.

This next year it is the plan of the library staff to go over the fiction collection and dispose of all badly worn or out of date books. This will be done in order to relieve a badly overcrowded condition of the shelves as well as in preparation for a revision of the shelf list.

PRISCILLA ROYS,

Librarian.

Change in Personnel

The only change in the personnel at Robinson Seminary was the appointment of Mrs. Marguerite A. Johnson, who succeeded Mrs. Margaret (McLaughlin) Carbonneau, as supervisor of music.

Relations with Post-Secondary Institutions

Several from the class of 1935, twenty-seven in number, continued their education in the institutions listed below.

Bradford Junior College.....	Marguerite Culver
Hessers Business College.....	Frances Thyng
Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School.....	Marion V. Grilk
Keene Normal School.....	Ruth Bernier
Margaret Pillsbury Hospital.....	Lucy E. Manix
Newton Hospital.....	Lillian Gaides
University of New Hampshire.....	Elizabeth Adams
	Barbara Berry
Walnut Hill School.....	Jeanette B. Nay

Even though preparation for college will always be one of the aims of the secondary schools, the value and efficiency of a school are not to be judged by the number, or percentage of the graduates who continue their formal education at higher institutions. The Seminary endeavors to make a lasting impression for good on any pupil who enters, no matter how long or short her period of study may be. The increase in personal interest shown by teachers in student problems outside the class room is a wholesome tendency. The writer could cite many cases of young ladies who have been aided greatly by the kindly advice and guidance of teachers.

The continued success of graduates of all departments, Commercial, Home Economics and College Preparatory, is evidence that the Seminary provides the opportunity for thorough training if the pupils do their part. A school can always serve more efficiently if assisted through the early, careful planning by the pupils and their parents. May the writer here warn against dictation of a career for the pupil by the parent? Since there are many factors besides the academic one which affect a pupil's future, such as finances, personality, and attitudes, the school authorities welcome complete personal data by which to judge the pupils and such information is always held in strict confidence.

Changes in Program

During the current year the Seminary is making available its facilities in the Home Economics department for the pupils of grade seven in St. Michael's school. They come on Tuesdays and Thursdays for cooking and sewing under Miss Bryant and Miss Warcham respectively.

After dividing the Seminary seventh graders into two groups instead of three, teachers' programs were altered to permit two divisions in Modern European History, which has fifty-two pupils; two divisions in French 2B and Elementary Algebra 3A, on three days per week. In Algebra, one section was arranged for those pupils who are taking other than the College Preparatory Course and need a unit of mathematics as an entrance requirement for some post-secondary institution. These arrangements gave opportunity for greater individual supervision in the above groups. The writer wishes it were possible to have all classes number not more than twenty-four, but present conditions do not permit it.

Report of the State Testing Program

The state testing program for 1935 consisted of the Otis Self Administered Test of Mental Ability, Spelling Test and Iowa Placement Test of English Training. It is always pleasing to have the Seminary compare favorably with the schools of the state and with the standards compiled in other states and higher institutions.

Test	Seminary Median	State Median	Standard Median
Otis S. A. Test.....	106.9	106	105
Spelling.....	75	65	66
Iowa Placement.....	124.8	101	94

The standard given for the Iowa Placement Test is based on the records of 13,714 college freshmen, so it is a credit to the Seminary group to exceed this standard by 30.8 points.

New Equipment

Because of the unprecedented interest in the Commercial curriculum, six typewriters were added, making a total of twenty-one, and also the necessary typewriter tables and chairs. To accommodate the larger classes, Room 6 on the first floor, formerly a French recitation room was selected to replace Room 14 on the third floor.

New chairs were purchased for the sewing classes and to meet a real need a fitting room was added. With curtains of monks cloth, and a pipe frame work the fitting accommodations were made possible in the northeast corner of the room without encroaching on the space necessary for class work.

Announcement

Because of the increased interest in the commercial work, it is necessary to announce that in 1935-36 the students taking the work in the future must be a selected group. The popular conception of American education is based on the theory that each curriculum is open to every pupil who desires it. However, with limitations on equipment and teaching force, the school retains the right to pick those pupils most worthy of the opportunity.

Each applicant for the course must realize that a good general education is essential and that personality counts. Manipulation of a typewriter is only a small factor toward success in the secretarial field. Priority of applications will always be considered.

Student Activities

An innovation in the activities of the Seminary students is the joint participation in radio programs over WHEB with the boys of Exeter High. Three programs have been broadcast, the last being "Evangeline" on February 18. Beside the enjoyment, there is real value in the experience and insight into radio technique.

As the play to be presented in the New Hampshire Drama

Day Program, the Robinson Seminary Dramatic Club has selected, "Number Ten," by Muriel and Sydney Box. Having won an honorable mention and a second place in three previous appearances, the young ladies have victory as their goal this year.

In athletics, the Seminary has been very successful. The hockey season closed with six victories, one tie game and no defeats. Two consecutive victories opened the basketball schedule. All interscholastic competition is governed by moderation, basketball being limited to ten games and to trips not exceeding twenty-five miles. Interclass contests make possible participation in some form of sport by the majority of pupils.

Attendance

Several epidemics have made a high record of attendance impossible. Measles, mumps, chicken pox and appendicitis have caused daily absences of 20-30. These conditions increase the problem for teachers as well as the absentees. Sincere efforts to make up work can assist greatly to reduce the loss due to absence.

Conclusion

There are countless details concerning the work at the Seminary which would be of interest to many people, but there is not room for the mention of them in this report. In conclusion, the writer invites and even urges parents to become more familiar with the Seminary in general and the curriculum followed by their daughters, in particular. To assist them is the writer's pleasure.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES A. PIRNIE,

Principal.
